Biography/History of

Women of significant socioeconomic standing from Albany, Schenectady, and Troy gathered in the home of Louisa Van Rensselaer on May 3, 1923 in order to discuss the creation of a garden club. The Fort Orange Garden Club was founded with the intention of joining the Garden Club of America, which was achieved within three years time. The F.O.G.C. was also accepted into the Federated Garden Clubs that same year. The club's hierarchy included a President, an honorary President, three Vice Presidents, a Secretary, Treasurer, and a Librarian. The first President and Honorary President were Mrs. Frederick Townsend and Mrs. William B. Van Rensselaer. Each Vice President represented Albany, Schenectady, or Troy. The members used their influence and affluence to establish connections with other garden clubs and similar institutions, sparring no time in developing a social presence. Manipulating legislation through donation or public opinion, in order to prevent laws the club deemed inappropriate, was one of the impacts of this presence.

Scope and Contents of the Records/Papers/Collection

Contains material regarding the Fort Orange Garden Club such as minutes and reports from meetings, genealogies, general histories, personal histories, membership lists, projects, flower shows, public works, newspaper articles, awards, magazines, scrapbooks, maps, memorabilia, photographs, and slides from the clubs founding in 1923 to 2007, when the archive was last updated. The more involved the F.O.G.C. was, the deeper the topic is explored.

Organization of the Records/Papers/Collection

The records are sorted into eight series. The first six series are composed of documents and divided by subject matter. Series one most closely follows the F.O.G.C. archivists' original organization, dividing the club's history by presidential terms. Series two details the many projects undertaken by the F.O.G.C. Series three contains the histories of non-presidential club members, arranged alphabetically. Series four contains histories of the F.O.G.C., assembled by different people, covering different time periods, with varied levels of detail. Series five is composed of all documents regarding the F.O.G.C. glass slides donated to the Smithsonian. Series six collects information concerning flowers shows hosted or attended by the F.O.G.C. The final two are organized by form, photographic materials and oversized objects, series seven and eight respectively.
